Little choices · question cards

Read a card. Choose A, B, both or pass. An explanation is optional.

01

Would you rather have a bookmark shaped like a long sausage dog or have one shaped like a curling moustache?

02

Would you rather open a lunchbox that announces “Lunch is served!” or wear a coat that announces “Adventure time!”?

03

Would you rather choose a bell that sounds like a tiny orchestra or choose a door knocker shaped like a sleepy snail?

04

Would you rather have a pencil case with a miniature drawbridge or have a school bag with a secret map pocket?

05

Would you rather make a paper crown for a teddy or make a cardboard medal for a favourite toy?

06

Would you rather decorate a plant pot to look like a tiny cottage or decorate a storage box to look like a railway station?

07

Would you rather have a cushion that looks like a postage stamp or have a rug that looks like a giant board game?

08

Would you rather invent a new name for every room or invent a special greeting for every door?

Wonderful machines · question cards

Read a card. Choose A, B, both or pass. An explanation is optional.

09

Would you rather have a machine that folds paper into tiny boats or have one that stamps pictures of very serious ducks?

10

Would you rather invent a bicycle with a built-in book shelf or invent a pushchair for a family of toy robots?

11

Would you rather use a remote control to rearrange a model town or use a lever to choose the next scene in a puppet theatre?

12

Would you rather ride an imaginary bus with a garden on its roof or ride one with a library in its back seats?

13

Would you rather make a robot that sorts buttons by shape or make one that invents names for paint colours?

14

Would you rather design a clock whose hands are two dancing spoons or design a calendar that unfolds into a paper village?

15

Would you rather own a tiny lift just for sending notes upstairs or own a miniature train that delivers clean socks?

16

Would you rather invent a torch that projects a little map or invent a fan that makes paper butterflies flutter?

Story worlds · question cards

Read a card. Choose A, B, both or pass. An explanation is optional.

17

Would you rather visit a village where every house is a teapot or visit one where every house is a musical instrument?

18

Would you rather meet a dragon who repairs umbrellas or meet a giant who restores broken toy cars?

19

Would you rather find a letter written by the moon's librarian or find a map drawn by a travelling cloud?

20

Would you rather help a mouse open a tiny cinema or help a beetle organise a very small art exhibition?

21

Would you rather travel in a storybook lift with a different world on every floor or travel in a storybook train with a different season in every carriage?

22

Would you rather own a shop selling imaginary weather in jars or own a workshop repairing worn-out magic spells?

23

Would you rather deliver invitations to a mountain's birthday party or deliver thank-you cards after a river's concert?

24

Would you rather choose the sign above a friendly monster's café or choose the menu at a family of dragons' picnic?

Make something together · question cards

Read a card. Choose A, B, both or pass. An explanation is optional.

25

Would you rather build a cardboard post office or build a cardboard ticket booth?

26

Would you rather make a museum of things from your pencil case or make a gallery of pictures drawn on tiny scraps?

27

Would you rather design a board game using only circles or design one using only triangles?

28

Would you rather put on a puppet show with a very tiny stage or make a stop-motion scene with a very grand entrance?

29

Would you rather invent a handshake for a make-believe club or design a flag for its meeting place?

30

Would you rather make a map of an imaginary indoor campsite or make a timetable for an imaginary garden railway?

31

Would you rather create a comic whose main character is a lost mitten or create one whose main character is a new pencil?

32

Would you rather choose the first question for the next round or draw the picture on the next question card?

Make the round your own

Choose a few cards, read them slowly and stop when the group is ready. Leave sheets whole or have an adult cut the cards apart.

A few things to agree

How we will answer: say it / point to A or B / another way

We can pass, choose both or suggest a third idea.

Cards we would like to start with: _____

Our question 1

Would you rather…

_____

or…

_____

Our question 2

Would you rather…

_____

or…

_____

Our question 3

Would you rather…

_____

or…

_____

Our question 4

Would you rather…

_____

or…

_____