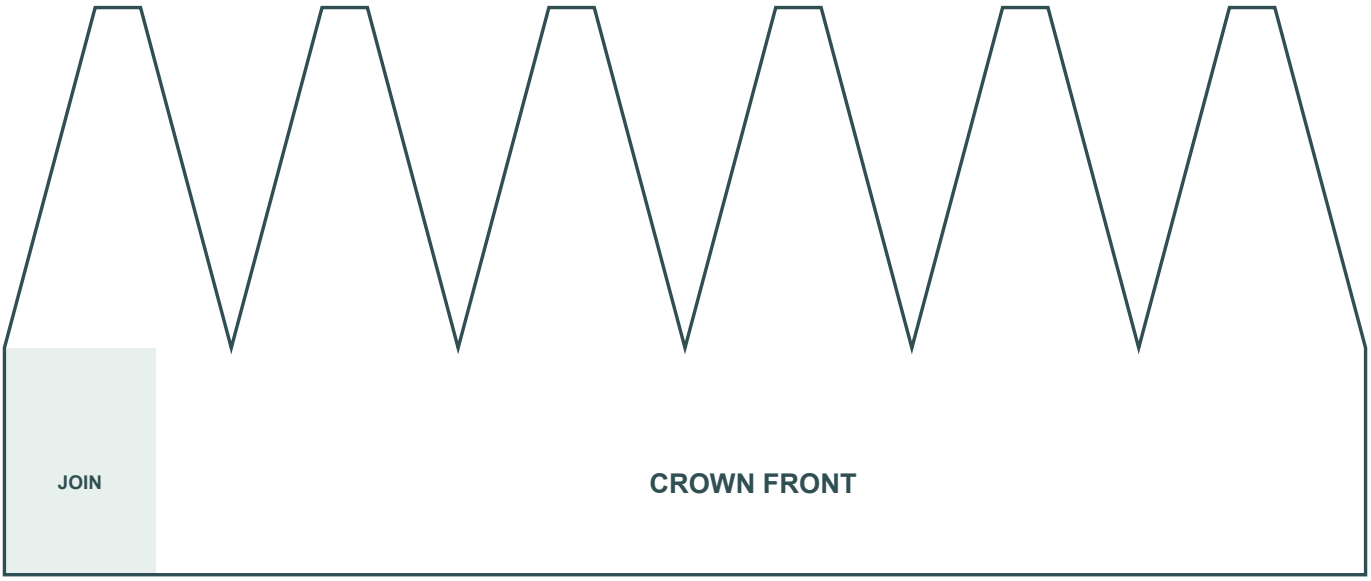
Crown front and three bands

Colour first, then cut around each outside outline. Shaded ends are for joining, not folding.

Front · 180 × 75 mm

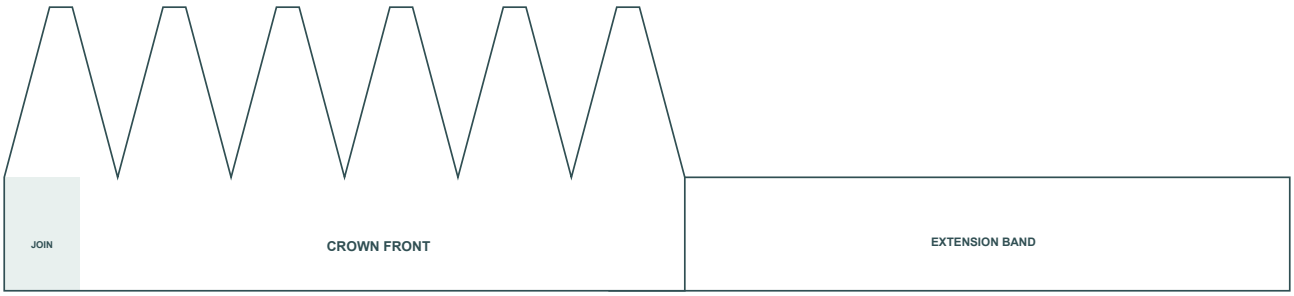


Bands · 180 × 30 mm each. Use as many as you need; trim after checking the fit.

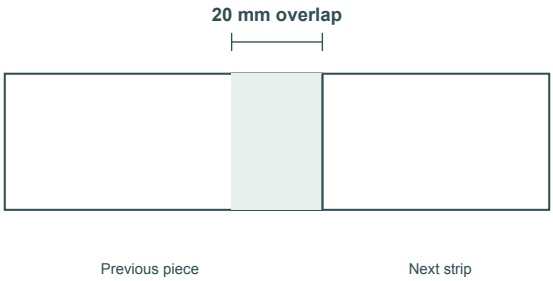
This line should measure 50 mm at 100%.

Join, fit and finish

No folds are needed. Use tape for the joins. Keep the printed side facing out.



The band’s shaded end is hidden behind the front. Add more bands in the same way.



Close-up: the pale area marks the overlap, covered when the pieces are joined.

1. Colour and cut

Decorate the front and bands. Cut only around the outside solid outlines.

Ask an adult to help with cutting and fitting. Keep the shaded ends.

2. Join the bands flat

Put a band’s shaded end under the front’s plain end. Overlap the full shaded area.

Tape the joint. Add another band in the same way if you need more length.

3. Mark a loose fit

With help, hold the paper loosely around the head and mark the final join.

Use only the bands you need. Do not fasten it while it is being worn.

4. Take it off, then tape

Remove the crown. Trim spare band length, keeping enough paper for the overlap.

Put the front’s shaded end under the last band’s plain end, then tape the join.

5. Check and adjust

Try it on again. If it feels tight, slips down or is uncomfortable, take it off.

Adjust the band length. Use more bands from another copy of page 1 if needed.

This line should measure 50 mm at 100%.
